Affordable Housing

Home Providers

Home Providers are people who have more housing than they are able to maintain or afford. They are house rich and money poor; struggling to pay utilities, maintenance of the home, insurance and taxes. They seek a person to share their living arrangement who can contribute to the finances and perhaps to their life by offering companionship, assistance with household chores, etc.

Home Renters

Home Renters come from all walks of life. They are students, second career seekers, recently divorced persons, low-income families, unemployed persons, homeless individuals or families and people on fixed incomes. They are in need of a living situation that will allow them to pay an affordable rent and live in a comfortable environment while they stabilize their life situation. Most Home Renters are among the working poor who cannot afford market rentals. Thus, Home Sharing is an excellent option for them, and can become a long term solution.

Home Share Pinellas

Home Share Pinellas matches Home Renters with Home Providers. Home Sharing promotes living arrangements in which people share a residence based on common needs, interests and preferences. Each arrangement is custom made; therefore, services rendered and costs involved will vary. Our goal is that each arrangement contributes not only to the individuals and families involved, but also to the community by preserving homes and promoting alternative housing solutions.

The program cuts across cultural, ethnic, gender, religious, economic and various generations. Our counseling model with in-depth interviews of both the Home Renter and Home Provider insures that matches are made that will have the best possible likelihood of long-term success.

If you are interested in learning more about the program or applying please call Wanda Weber, Director of the Home Share Pinellas program at 727-247-1000.
